Pay Out Percentage

All Optional Category levels shall return 90% of the Optional Category Purse money. For example, if there are two participants in the $100 optional category for Biggest Marlin of Tournament, the winner of that optional category will receive $180.

Rules to Win Optional Categories

As identified above, there are a variety of dollar value entry levels from which a team may choose to enter. Teams compete only against the other teams entered in the same specific category and dollar level. Teams entered in the $100 daily compete only against other teams in the $100 daily.

You cannot win an optional entry category if you are not entered into that category. Likewise, you can't win a specific dollar level if you are not entered in that dollar level. You must enter both days of any daily category, you may not enter just one or the other.

There shall be only one place paid per category, unless there is a tie, in which case, the optional category purse will be split as outlined below. If there is no winner in a particular dollar value entry level, then the participants in that level shall have the option of receiving a refund equivalent to 90% of the optional category entry fees paid, or apply the refund amount to another HMTS tournament.

Biggest Marlin of Tournament

To win this optional category, a team must weigh the biggest Marlin of the tournament that meets or exceeds 400 lbs.

If no marlin are weighed during the tournament, the optional category of Biggest Marlin of Tournament shall be awarded to the team with the most total tag points of the tournament.

If there is a tie for tag points, and there are no fish scaled, the tie will be split among those in the tie position with 60% going to the first team to arrive at the tie position, and 40% going to the team that arrived at the tie position second.

Biggest Marlin per Day

The purse allotted for each day is awarded to the single largest marlin caught that day that meets or exceeds 400 lbs.

If no marlin are weighed on Day One, the purse shall "roll forward" and be added to the second day's purse. If a qualifier is weighed on Day Two, that fish will win the entire purse. If no marlin are weighed on Day Two, but a qualifying fish was weighed on Day One, the purse shall "roll backward" to the previous day's winner.

If no marlin are weighed during the tournament, the optional category of Biggest Marlin per Day shall be awarded to the team with the most total tag points after both day's points are combined.

If there is a tie for tag points combined for both days, and there are no fish scaled, the tie will be split among those in the tie position with 60% going to the first team to arrive at the tie position, and 40% going to the team that arrived at the tie position second.

Biggest Ahi of Tournament

To win this optional category, a team must weigh the biggest Ahi of the tournament that exceeds 100 lbs.

These optional categories WILL NOT revert to total points in the absence of a qualifying weighed fish.
